

Prevention 101: Fundamentals of the Prevention Field

Tuesday, May 17th 10:00am-11:30am (EST)

CLICK HERE

Register Now

This virtual training provides important prevention knowledge beneficial to not only new prevention professionals, but even seasoned professionals who may want a refresher on the basics. Topics covered in this training include understanding the benefits of prevention, a brief description of risk factors and how to mitigate them, understanding how to find the best evidence-based strategy for your substance prevention coalition, and building competency to become Certified Prevention Specialists.

Learning Objectives

- Describe the emergence and importance of the prevention field.
- Identify and explain essential definitions, theories, and strategies used in the prevention field.
- Learn how essential definitions and concepts support prevention coalitions and the Continuum of Care

Who should attend this event?

- Prevention professionals /coordinators working at the state level or in communities
- Members of local prevention coalitions
- Organizations/staff that support prevention initiatives

1.5 hours of Continuing Education Credits

Questions, Contact Shayona Montemurro
Montemurro@xsector.com

